TWO VETERANS OF '47 KEEP TAB ON MEXICO

Brig. Gen. H. G. Gibson, Nearing Eighty-seven, Would Go to Front Once More.

Among those keeping closest tab on the Mexican situation in Washington are Brig. Gen. Horatio G. Gibson, U. A., retired, the oldest living graduate of the United States Military Academy, and Rear Admiral John Henry Upshur, S. N., retired, the oldest living graduate of the Naval Academy, Both saw service in the last Mexican war. General Gibson, now nearing his eighty-seventh milestone, inspires to patriotism the most phiegmatic of those who hear him speak on the outlook in Mexico.

"Ever since this trouble started I have been itching to get into action," said the venerable soldier at his resisaid the venerable soldier at his residence, 1412 Twenty-first street northwest, today. "If there is going to be war with Mexico I want to be in it. I want to be a part of the United States army," he continued enthusiastically. army," he continued enthusiastically.
"I saw my first military service in the last war with Mexico, and I'll see more service, if they'll give me a chance.

First Service In Mexico.

"I was just twenty years old when I vas graduated f rom West Point, and in July, '47, was a second lieutenant of artillery, my first commission. In October, 1847, I was ordered to Vera Cruz. We fought during the Mexican campaign in the last year of the war, went to Pueblo in December, and entered Mexico City in December, 1848."
"I entered West Foint at the age of sixteen and had just attained my maority when graduated. I am still active enough to feel the desire to go, and believe I could stand another cam-

General Gibson fought also in the Army of the Potomac in the civil war from Williamsburg to Fredericksburg. He was in the artillery, and had his most thrilling experience at Fredericksburg, where his sword was shot away, the bullet passing through his over-coat and inflicting a mortal wound upon General Bayard.

Last June, General Gibson delivered the graduating address to the cadets West Point, just sixty-six years fter he had received his own dipleme He is as active as a man of sixty and declared he feels at least twenty-five years younger than he is. The general takes a great interest in all activities and contributes largely to several mag
